

Dr. Kristi Erickson

CAPT Erickson brings a wealth of experience in both clinical dentistry and military leadership. She earned her Bachelor of Science, Cum Laude, from Vanderbilt University and her Doctor of Dental Medicine, Cum Laude, from Boston University Goldman School of Dental Medicine in 2004. She began her Navy career through the Health Services Program Scholarship and has since held numerous leadership roles across naval dental commands, including serving as Dental Department Head during operational tours and later as Program Director for Advanced Education in General Dentistry.

She completed advanced training in Operative Dentistry at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, earning both a certificate and a Master of Science degree. Most recently, she serves as faculty at the Naval Postgraduate Dental School in Bethesda, where she teaches operative dentistry and contributes to the development of future dental specialists. She is also the Navy's Operative Specialty Leader.

CAPT Erickson became Board Certified by the American Board of Operative Dentistry in 2017 and has been recognized with multiple military honors throughout her distinguished career.
